There's No Place Like London!

As the children sang 'There's no place like London,' the theatre rose to an enthusiastic cheer. It was great to be back at the prestigious Hackney Empire for the annual Festival of Voices performance. Year 4 students and children from other Newham schools sang together as one amazing choir.

The theme this year was 'Best of British' to celebrate the diversity and wonder of Northern Ireland, Scotland, Wales, and England. The children embraced positivity and used the power of music to uplift everyone. Their enthusiasm was infectious as they filled the stage with the colours of red, white, and blue, creating an uplifting atmosphere with songs from various British artists.

It was a remarkable event that showcased their talent, hard work, dedication, and certainly their love and enthusiasm for music. The event concluded with some crowd-pleasing East End numbers, which had the audience joining in from the aisles. The sound of "Maybe It's Because I'm a Londoner" could surely be heard several miles away.

Parents Join Students for a Fun-Filled Science Morning at School

During Science Week, the school buzzed with excitement as parents joined their children for a special Science Morning event. The classrooms transformed into lively scientific discovery, where children and their parents engaged in hands-on experiments and shared the joys of learning.

Children and parents explored electricity by creating simple circuits with batteries, wires, and small light bulbs. The look of triumph on the children's faces when their bulbs lit up was matched by the delight of their parents. The classrooms were filled with excited chatter and discovery.

"It's amazing to see how much fun science can be when we're all learning together," said one parent. "Seeing my child so excited and engaged makes me appreciate these opportunities even more."
