Happy Holidays from Ranelagh

Another fantastic term ends, here at Ranelagh. The run up to Christmas in a nursery and primary school is always one of the best parts of being a nursery and primary school Head. I can simply walk into any hall or classroom and tap, hum and applaud to the tunes, the acting and the hat-making skills of the children. But behind every event, there is a huge amount of energy and incredible dedication from every single adult. Ranelagh is tremendously lucky to have every single member of staff giving their full commitment to everything that they do. Whether it is exaggerating the words, or encouraging a child to look at the audience or learning every word to every Christmas song ever written : they do it with brilliance. They model encouragement and support , motivating your child ' to be the best that they can be.'

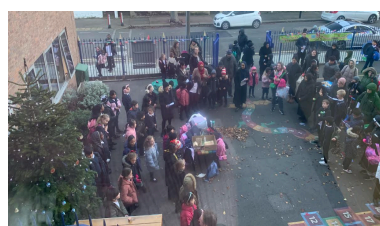

At the Christmas Lunch on Wednesday, there was a wonderful Festive atmosphere, a huge thanks to our parent governor, Rosie Murdoch who handed out crackers.

Ranelagh's governors are exceptional; they visit the school to ensure that Ranelagh and its teachers are delivering the best educational practice and that the policies and procedures needed in a school are adhered to. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each one of them for the challenge and support they give. Mrs Begum, our Chair of Governors; Mr Sewell and Mr Hoyle overseeing Safeguarding and Attendance ;Ms Begum and Ms Ellis looking at Curriculum & Quality of Teaching ; Ms Murdoch and Mr Jammeh responsible for SEND & Equality, Diversity and Inclusion(EDI) ; with Well Schools Overseen by Ms Giscombe and Mrs Bahra .

What a lovely way to say farewell to Mrs Chowdhury with our annual Carols around the Christmas tree with our very own Mr Murdoch on piano. A new song was introduced this year-Little Donkey. This is Mrs Patel's choice of festive cheer and it was great to watch the whole community help her out singing this.

This Ranelagh tradition wraps up the winter term and it leaves me, once again, to thank you for your support and contribution to the life of our school.

I wish you a restful holiday, and for those celebrating, a very Merry Christmas.

See you on Monday January 6th

Well Done to Ranelaghs Child of the Term!

Attendance

Research states that having high school attendance correlates with the child's development. Please make sure your child attends school.
