Global Action Projects Fair 2025 – Because Tomorrow Matters!

Every Autumn term, children at Ranelagh Primary School become young changemakers, developing their geographical knowledge and global awareness through our Global Action Projects. Across the school, children learned that their voices matter and that they can take action to tackle global challenges because tomorrow truly matters!

🐢 EYFS – Saving the Turtles-Our youngest learners explored how small actions can make a big difference. They designed posters with important messages and created turtle ornaments to sell in support of the charity Save the Turtle.

Year 5 Trip to The Courtauld Gallery

In Art, year 5 have been learning about Paul Cezanne and were lucky enough to visit the Courtauld Gallery in Somerset House to see some of his paintings. The children had a guided tour around the gallery and were able to appreciate works by other artists including Van Gogh and Monet. Children were taught different techniques to create their own sketches of the arts of work there, and shared their knowledge of primary and secondary colours. The children also had an opportunity to experiment with colour techniques when recreating their sketches with paints. Despite the clouds and rain, Year 5 took the opportunity to visit The Artist's Garden on the roof of Temple tube station to explore the sculptures there and to take in the view out across the River Thames
