Jubilee Joy at the Hackney Empire!

What an unforgettable evening! On Tuesday 23rd June, children in Year 4 took to the historic stage at the Hackney Empire for the annual Festival of Voices. Not even the summer heatwave could dampen their spirits, or their voices, as the children sang their hearts out.

This year's theme was Jubilee Joy, and the energy in the theater was absolutely electric from the very first note. The show kicked off with a magnificent performance of the Festival of Voices song, composed by our very own Mr. Murdoch, followed by There's No Place Like London.

Ranelagh and Curwen spread pure joy with their moving performances of Everlasting Love and Pipes of Peace. The absolute highlight was the unforgettable experience of singing alongside a live band. Seeing our children perform with such passion made this year extra special.

A massive thank you to all the staff who made this event possible, and to the parents, for your continued support and enthusiasm in the audience. The children were absolute superstars and we could not be prouder of their performance. They truly brought joy!

Torches, Magnets, and Big Questions: What a Science Morning!

What a brilliant morning we had at our recent Science Morning! It wasn't just our children acting like real-world scientists, the parents did some serious investigating too! It was great to watch the tables turn, with the children becoming the teachers and proudly sharing everything they've learned in science this year. Equipped with torches, Year 6 and their parents were busy exploring light and shadows.

Down in Key Stage 1, things got beautifully messy as KS1 and their grown-ups tested what floats, what sinks, and what sticks to magnets. The children also showed off their animal classification skills, sorting creatures into their correct scientific groups like scientists in the making. Year 5 led some fantastic investigations into the invisible world of forces, testing out pulls, pushes, and gravity.

Watching the kids lead the way, seeing them explain tricky concepts to their parents with so much confidence and a massive smile on their faces was just wonderful. A huge thank you to all the parents who came along, got stuck in, and weren't afraid to ask those big "why" questions. You have some seriously talented little scientists on your hands!

Word of the week

KS1- Respect

KS2- Diversity

Well, what a day! Sports Day 2026 became a Water Fun Day!

To ensure the children stayed safe and had the absolute best time, we traded the running activities for water fun. #Best. Day. Ever.

The highlight of the day was undoubtedly the water sponge race! Everyone followed the shade around the school to stay cool, but nobody stayed dry! Children, parents, and teachers were completely soaked. The sound of laughter and the occasional shriek from a cold sponge filled the school grounds. Aside from splashing each other, we made sure children drank plenty of water to stay hydrated.

Congratulations to our parent team for an incredibly spirited run in the water race. For a moment there, it truly looked like you had it in the bag!

Thank you to everyone for making it such a memorable splash. Parents, we look forward to defending our title against you next year! A huge shoutout to Mr Jordan for organising the day and all the staff.

What an absolutely fun day!

TTLT Awards Nominations

A huge well done to the following children and adults for being nominated for the annual TTLT Awards. We will share the live link with parents closer to the day. They are:

Charlie (Yr6) and Osarioemen (G1) for outstanding contribution to school life.
R'Miah for the Creativity Award, Leena (Yr 4) for the Sports Achievement, Martin (G3) for the Young Achiever Award, Elijah (Yr4) for the Outstanding Educational Achievement KS2, Sulaiman (G1) for Outstanding Educational Achievement KS1, Sapphire (RG8) for Outstanding Educational Achievement EYFS, Hannah Dixon for the Unsung Hera Award and Mr Murdoch for the staff member who enhances school life.

Attendance

Research states that having high school attendance correlates with the child's development. Please make sure your child attends school.
